Long Branch,

N. J., July 1.—Pleasure Bay is in full blast of gaiety, and immense crowds gather every evening to take part in the dancing, ride on the merry-go-round, have their fortunes told, and eat their suppers, besides seeing the light opera, "Said Pasha" is the opera of the week, having begun last Thursday evening.

The Avenue is under new management this year, G. S. Moulton having leased it. Among the hotel guests are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Allen, J. B. Martin, Colonel T. B. Robertson, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Morgan, of Boston; Mrs. C. W. Lester, of Newark; Mrs. Catherine C. Clark, of Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Griffin, of Brooklyn, who never miss a season at the Avenue. On Tuesday there will be an especial programme of amusements, which will include a fine display of fireworks.

Mrs. Frank Ashton, of New York, is at the Scarborough for the summer. She is very charming, and shows her French descent in her beautiful costumes.

Among the guests at the West End are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Webb, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sylvester, Miss Hattie S. Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. Max Stern and family, Judge and Mrs. S. H. Stinner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sonnenborn, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Seligman, Mrs. William Kraus, Mrs. I. A. Simin, Miss Simin, Mrs. H. P. Southwell, Mr. and Mrs. James Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mendelson, D. J. Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Metzler, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Miss Emmeline O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lessberger, Miss Lessberger, Mrs. L. Lessberger, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Neville Abrahams and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harris, of London, England; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Frank, of South Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Plaut, of Newark.

Stopping at the Howland House are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. M. Casper, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lowmy, Miss Edwards, J. N. Frank, Miss Frank, Miss Mesner, Samuel Cohen and family, B. Josephson, Mrs. Kenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brunsell, Miss Brunsell, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Graf, Mrs. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. S. Cohen and family, S. Gantz, Mr. and Mrs. Rauberscheck, Mrs. Rauberscheck, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. France, Miss Ida Cienious, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schloss and S. B. Wise.

Asbury Park,

July 1.—This is a proud day for Asbury. The gentlemen of the Board of Health from Washington, who were sent down to Jersey to examine into the condition of the watering places, have declared that the Park is the most healthful of all the towns they have visited. The members of the committee of investigation are staying at the Plaza. They are Dr. A. N. Talley, Jr., Dr. D. L. Short, Dr. J. S. Kelly, of Washington; Dr. H. S. Platt, Jr., of St. Louis, and Hon. Robert Barron, Mrs. Marion Milson Crenshaw, of Washington, D. C., and her little daughter, are comfortably settled for the summer in a cottage on Fourth avenue. Mr. Crenshaw will not be able to come down until next month.

James A. Bradley says he would like to see beach meetings held in Asbury. He would like some good citizen to step forward and read really good sermons down by the sea—sermons by well-known preachers.

Mayor Ten Broeck gave a reception and dance last Thursday evening—the opening entertainment of the hotel under his management. There were four hundred invitations issued, all the local dignitaries being included. The invitations were engraved and at the top of each was the Ten Broeck coat-of-arms embossed in script.

Great improvements have been made this Spring at the Plaza. The dining room has been all made over, and all the lower floor and many of the bedrooms have been newly papered and painted. Mrs. Hyde has been here since early in April getting things in order. The Plaza is the only hotel in Asbury that is run on both the European and American plans. The orchestra has been engaged, and next week the regular hops will begin—in informal affairs through the week, that one may attend in evening costume, and full-dress dances on Saturday evenings. Miss Helen Hyde is here with her horse and her bicycle. Manager J. F. Brien, known for his kindness and courtesy, is attending to the comfort of the guests.

E. D. Price, the manager of the Manhattan Theatre, came down from New York last week with his wife, the children and the nurses, and has engaged apartments for the entire summer at the Plaza. Louis Cushman, the New York confectioner, is also here for several months with Mrs. Cushman, Pa. banker, expects to be here for some weeks. Mrs. Harold H. Reider, with her children and nurses is here from New York for the season. So also are Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan and family, from New York. Thomas Smith, Croker's private secretary, and his wife expect to remain until September. R. J. Gunning, of Chicago, will make a visit of some days. J. S. Gellert and G. Dow Reno are two New York medical students who came down last Saturday. Dr. G. Frederick Brooks, of New York, expects to remain some time, as does F. R. Vail, of Middletown, N. Y.

Will Dean does not expect to come to Asbury Park this season after all. The company with which he is acting at Rochester has determined to keep the theatre open all summer, and as Mr. Dean is stage manager, they will not let him cancel his engagement. Joseph Kissell, the singer, who acted as Mr. Dean's assistant last year, will be the new master of ceremonies.

Dr. J. C. Perry, of Jacksonville, Fla., is passing the summer at the Park. He is at the Hawthorne. Mr. and Mrs. M. Price, of Newark, are at the Victoria for a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Berlinger, of New York, are staying at the Waldorf, on Sunset Lake. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Keller, of New York, are here for a few weeks. They have secured rooms at the Grand Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shea are among the New Yorkers at the Willard. Among the New Yorkers at the Brighton are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stanwood.

Ex-Mayor and Mrs. George H. Harford, of Orange, are at the Columbia, with their family. Thomas H. Young, chief of police, of Ontario, is at Norwood Hall for the season, with his family. He has been quite ill from overwork and has come here from his home at Niagara Falls to recuperate.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rodriguez, of Pittsburgh, will be back at the Brunswick for the season in a few days. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez are devoted to progressive exercise and have carried off many prizes. Mr. Rodriguez is a great surfer and a most expert swimmer. He seldom misses a day for his swim during the entire season.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Newton, of Jersey City, are back at the Monmouth for the season. Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis, of Philadelphia, are expected at the Brunswick very shortly, with their daughter, Miss Ada Davis, and their son, Augustus. Miss Davis is a great belle and takes a lively part in all the entertainments of the house. She is fond of dancing, bicycling, golfing and swimming. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have been guests of the Brunswick every season since Mr. Parsons has had it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Babcock, of Newark, arrived at the Brunswick to-day for the summer. This is their first season at the Park.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Valentine Wildman, of New York, and family, are at the Columbia again for the season. This is their sixth season at that hotel. Dr. Wildman is an expert on diseases of the brain at Bellevue Hospital.

Ocean Grove,

N. J., July 1.—The Grove means to celebrate the Fourth in great style. Governor "Bob" Taylor, of Tennessee, is to give the oration at the Auditorium in the morning, and there will be a big patriotic concert as well. Then the Declaration of Independence is to be read by Counsellor Samuel A. Patterson, of Asbury Park. Professor Morgan will have charge of the music, as usual. In the evening there will be fireworks and the boats on the lake will be decorated.

Never before in the history of Ocean Grove were there so many meetings so largely attended as during the past week. Bishop Fitzgerald presided. Among the clergymen who are to be particularly prominent in the Grove this summer are Rev. Dr. A. E. Ballard, vice-president of the Camp Meeting Association; Rev. J. G. Reed, Rev. William Franklin, Rev. Dr. J. H. Alday, Rev. Dr. B. Lewis, Rev. Dr. Frank P. Parkin, Rev. Dr. E. A. Schell, of Chicago; Rev. Dr. J. F. Berry and Rev. Grant C. Fuller, of Chicago. Rev. Charles H. Yatman, who has so successfully led the young people's meetings for several years past, is away, and so Bishop Fitzgerald will lead the meetings, assisted by the Rev. Dr. D. R. Lowrie, who is very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brookfield, of Walden, are at the Mulford for a few weeks. Captain H. L. Jackson is a war hero who is passing three months' leave of absence at the Grove. He belongs to the Twenty-second Regiment, U. S. A., and is staying at the Atlantic.

Mrs. J. G. Reich and her daughter, Miss D. A. Reich, of New York, are passing a fortnight at La Playa House.

Among the New Yorkers who are staying at the Atlantic House are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sheldon, S. A. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dutcher, Miss Lillian A. Armstrong and Charles A. Miner. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend H. Fellows, of New York, are visiting the Grove. They are at the Arlington.

The "surf meetings" have been resumed, and are held, as in former years, at the foot of Ocean Pathway.

Professor T. E. Morgan is arranging a choir of one hundred voices.

Deal Beach,

July 1.—Golf has become so universal a favorite at Deal Beach that red jackets are rather the rule than the exception, and very picturesque they look, too. They are worn for many occasions besides golf playing. In fact, they are quite usual now in carriages and on bicycles. Even the little boys wear them. Many of the latter wear the sailor hats, which give some slight protection from the sun.

The Casino, on the beach, is open this week, and is patronized by a host of bathers. The new clubhouse are all finished, and the gardens about them are being decorated. The roads are gay with carriages and bicycles. All is in readiness for the crowd expected here over the Fourth.

William Hogenkamp, the Jersey City bank president, has one of the handsomest houses here. It is on Sydney and Ocean avenues, down near the sea. He has a number of handsome turnouts here.

George K. Thompson, the New York architect, has a cottage near the Hogenkamp's on Sydney avenue, and is settled here for the summer, with his family.

Ernest Grossbeck, of New York, has rented Miss Mary Brown's cottage on Neptune avenue for the summer, and arrived here yesterday with his family.

Mrs. A. Pearsall and her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Judd, have taken a house on Richmond avenue for the summer. They are from Brooklyn.

Thomas E. Groenen and family, Miss Maud Winesley and Miss Ida Maudslayi are at Mrs. West's cottage, on Neptune avenue, and the tents which follow have been changed so that the tournaments hereafter take place on Mondays, and the teas are given on Saturday afternoons, following the gentlemen's regular weekly tournaments, so that after they have gone over the course on the links they may be entertained and kept at the club house until it is time for the dinner hour at home.

The idea is now to make the club house in the day time what the piazzas at the large hotels are in the evening, a place for meeting and for the discussion of social and other events. The golf tournament and the contest between picked teams from various clubs throughout the country which are to take place here are attracting considerable attention locally, and such clubs as the Wilmington Golf Club, Brandywine Golf Club, Philadelphia Country Club and the Morris County Club, will send teams here to contest with teams from the local club.

This week the thirty-first annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers held a four days' convention here, beginning on Tuesday morning in the big ballroom of the mammoth Stockton Hotel. There were about 500 of the male members and guests present and some 200 women accompanied the party.

Allenhurst,

July 1.—The one hundred and thirty-third annual meeting of the Medical Society of New Jersey took place at Allenhurst this week. The doctors arrived last Tuesday and went at once to the Inn, where elaborate preparations were made for their entertainment. On the evening of their arrival an address was delivered by the president of the society, Dr. C. R. R. Fisher, of Bound Brook, the subject being "The Century's Progress in Medicine." On Wednesday evening a big banquet was served. The officers of the society who are here are Dr. Luther M. Halser, of Williams-town, vice-president; Dr. William Pierson, of Orange, second vice-president; Dr. John D. McGil, of Jersey City, third vice-president; Dr. E. L. B. Godfrey, of Camden, corresponding secretary; Dr. William J. Chandler, of South Orange, recording secretary, and Dr. Archibald Mercer, of Newark, treasurer.

Among the other doctors here are Dr. J. S. Baer, of Camden; Dr. F. E. Agnew, of Paterson; Dr. L. L. Hays, of Leesburg; Dr. Walter B. Johnson, of Paterson; Dr. L. E. Bishop, of New York; Dr. J. D. McGil, Dr. John Bryner, of Trenton; Dr. Alexander Marcy, of Riverton; Dr. John C. McCoy, of Paterson; Dr. H. W. Elmer, Dr. J. L. Leal, Dr. W. H. Izard, Dr. Dowling, Dr. E. C. Baldwin, Dr. A. W. Taylor, Dr. David Warman, of Trenton; Dr. William J. Atkinson, of Paterson; Dr. Norton L. Wilson, of Elizabeth, and Dr. Henry Chavanne, of Salem.

George Gibbs, the Philadelphia artist and author, passed a few days this week at Allenhurst as the guest of Miss Biddle, in her cottage on the lake. Mr. Gibbs's new book entitled "Pike and Cutlass" is soon to be issued by the Lippincotts.

Atlantic City,

N. J., July 1.—The hotel men this week entertained four hundred members of the American Society of Civil Engineers, who, after concluding their annual session at Cape May, were brought here on board a special train. They were given the freedom of the city for the day. The hotel men have also arranged for a big canoe race to be sailed off the city between July 10 and 25. A number of visiting yachts are entered, and invitations have been sent to the New York and Baltimore yacht clubs to participate.

Commodore Lewis M. Evans, of the Beach Haven Yacht Club, is here in his steam yacht, Minnie May, accompanied by Mrs. Evans and a small party of Baltimore friends. Next week Commodore Evans sails for New York on his way to Newport.

The regular baseball season opened to-day (Saturday) at the Inlet Park. While the horse show is in progress, beginning July 13 (corrected date), the team will visit New York.

Assistant Postmaster-General Joseph L. Bristow is making his first visit here, registering at the Waverly.

Prince Casimir Lubomirski, accompanied by Dr. Maurice Francis Egan, of the Catholic University, came from New York early in the week. They are guests of Walter George Smith, of Thoresdale, Pa.

George Yerkes, of New York, is at the Hotel Edmund for the season with his family.

Mrs. William A. Stone, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, is at the Waverly.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, of New York, is at the Richmond.

Cape May,

N. J., July 1.—Over at the golf links this week there has been a change of programme, which tends to divide the social life about that point into a more even number of events during each day of the week.

The Wednesday afternoon ladies' tournaments and the teas which follow have been changed so that the tournaments hereafter take place on Mondays, and the teas are given on Saturday afternoons, following the gentlemen's regular weekly tournaments, so that after they have gone over the course on the links they may be entertained and kept at the club house until it is time for the dinner hour at home.

The idea is now to make the club house in the day time what the piazzas at the large hotels are in the evening, a place for meeting and for the discussion of social and other events. The golf tournament and the contest between picked teams from various clubs throughout the country which are to take place here are attracting considerable attention locally, and such clubs as the Wilmington Golf Club, Brandywine Golf Club, Philadelphia Country Club and the Morris County Club, will send teams here to contest with teams from the local club.

This week the thirty-first annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers held a four days' convention here, beginning on Tuesday morning in the big ballroom of the mammoth Stockton Hotel. There were about 500 of the male members and guests present and some 200 women accompanied the party.

General and Mrs. P. C. Hains have arrived here for the summer. Other New Yorkers here are J. T. Wood, T. W. Miller, E. R. Long, Mrs. Charles L. Guy, the Misses Guy, W. F. Olds, H. L. Hawkins.

Catskills,

—Stamford, N. Y., July 1.—Independence Day will be celebrated in many of the mountain towns, and hotel men expect to entertain very many guests who will come up from New York and Brooklyn to-night to stay over the Fourth. Hundreds of summer visitors have arrived during the week, and the army already here welcomed the newcomers with parties, hops, bowling tournaments and many other amusements.

Lovers of the national game are looking forward with pleasure to the coming week. At Fleischmann's the Cuban Giants will play the home team three games. Since early Spring the Fleischmann Club has been hard at work getting ready for the season. The team is supported by Julius Fleischmann, the millionaire yeast manufacturer of New York. Mr. Fleischmann and his brother, Max Fleischmann, play regularly with the club.

The New Grand Hotel opened Thursday. To-day three hundred members of the Society of Germans, New York, arrived there, and will remain over the Fourth.

The Chateau de Navarre, Dr. E. L. M. Bristol's country seat at Granthurst Park, is occupied by F. M. Shepard, of New York. Dr. Bristol and family will pass the summer abroad.

Alfred G. Reeves, of Brooklyn, came up Tuesday with his family. They occupy the Muir cottage at Stamford.

The changing of the Stony Clove road from a narrow to standard gauge was completed Monday, and vestibuled trains are now running from New York to the heart of the Eastern range in a little over four hours.

The Weingart Institute, at Highmount, opened this week. This institute includes on its roll the sons of many prominent New Yorkers who are summering abroad and leave their sons here.

Lake George,

July 1.—Mrs. Harry W. Watrous, of New York, opened the social season with one of the most artistic dinners given here. On each chair was a farmer's hat, trimmed with wild flowers. In the centre of the table wild flowers were banded. Moths and butterflies were fastened lightly on slender sprays. The epergne rested on a star of shaded grasses, decorated on one side with a bow of orange ribbon.

Among the new cottagers here this season are John C. Callahan and family, Colonel W. D. Mann, Benjamin Day and Robert Decker, the artist. Mr. Delavan Bloodgood, retired medical director, U. S. N., is at his home on Bungalow Island for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boulton Simpson, Miss Simpson and Miss Helene Simpson, of New York City, are here, at their summer cottage, "Villa Nirvana," on the Sagamore grounds. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will entertain on the Fourth of July Mrs. Robert Lenox Banks, Major Banks and Miss Mary

Mrs. Marie S. Penfield, her daughter, Miss Rose Penfield, her son, Pearson Penfield, and mother, Mrs. A. R. Pearson, all of New York, are in "Wayside Cottage," near Caldwell.

The Ellide, E. Burgess Warren's fast steam yacht, made a mile in 1:35, with 240 pounds of steam, one evening recently.

Among those who have leased the Lake House cottages for the season are F. H. Heller, Mrs. Mayer, C. E. Johnson, G. F. Bayle, Mrs. C. A. Harned, New York City; J. M. Bailey, Alonzo Sloat, Brooklyn; F. B. Taylor, New Rochelle.

Among the guests at the Fort William Hotel this week are Mr. and Mrs. McRae, on their wedding journey; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Clark, Mrs. D. H. Clark and Miss M. A. Clark, the party brought with them a number of wheels and a handsome turnout.

Bath Beach,

July 1.—A Cindersella and fairy ball was given Wednesday evening by the pupils of Professor J. H. Duffy. Among those who took part were Miss Carrie Winceler, the Sisters Duffy, Baby Ethel and Baby Florence, May Florence Whipple, Amy Koch, Marie Morrissey, Beale Woods, Edna Sedley, Marie Brown and Charles Marks. The cake walk by Messrs. Johnny McGarry, Thomas Wilson, Herbert Willis, Chaucer Barnett, Norman Willis and Allyn Barnett was one of the attractive features on the programme. After the entertainment dancing was enjoyed by all until a late hour.

Counsellor John F. Griffin has rented the Dryer cottage, Bay Twenty-third street.

Congressman Bertram C. Clayton, of Brooklyn, has leased the Ferguson cottage, Bay Twenty-ninth street, near Benson avenue.

The Invincible Club, numbering about seventy-five, had dinner at the Avon Beach Road House last Saturday night.

The entertainment and concert under the supervision of Professor Johannes Werschinger at the Hotel Lowry was the formal opening of the hotel. President Tuttle, of the Nassau Wheelmen, and about twenty members rode to Caslin's last Wednesday evening.

F. J. Menzie, private secretary of Russell Sage, is at the Hotel Bensonhurst.

Mrs. E. A. Allen, Miss Barling, C. W. Campbell and L. B. Wood, of the yacht Cymelia, are at the Argyle Hotel, and their yacht is anchored at the Captain's Pier.

A euchre party was given Wednesday night at the Hotel Creston. There were seven tables, and the first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Bradford; second, Miss Hawkins.

The New York Canarsie nine came down to the Avoca Villa by boat last Saturday. They had an elaborate dinner.

The alleys of the Hotel Argyle were formally opened Friday evening. The prize winners were: Mrs. G. F. French, first; Mrs. O. Cline, second, and Mrs. F. Berger, third.

Frank H. Courty, of Liverpool, England, is at the Hotel Bensonhurst.

Rockaway,

Far Rockaway, L. I., July 1.—Plans are being formed for a coaching parade, and the sojourners here and in this vicinity are to be asked to participate. A water carnival is also likely, although nothing definite has been done in the way of making arrangements.

The Tack-a-pou-sha House has reopened. Ex-Mayor Thomas F. Gilroy, with his children, has arrived at his cottage in the Bayswater section for the summer.

The Hazleton cottage on Waterloo place is being occupied by Mr. Gustave Salomon and family of Manhattan.

Hamptons,

Southampton, L. I., July 1.—James C. Kernochan has leased the Duer cottage for the season.

Justice Edward H. Foster and family are located at the residence of Lawyer W. F. Howell for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Romaine Brown are now occupying their handsome cottage on Shinnecock Hills. The Misses Heiser have rented Mr. W. R. Halsey's cottage, on Little Plains Road, for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. P. Wyckoff and their daughter, Miss Florence Wyckoff, took possession of their cottage here a few days ago. They have only just returned from Europe, where they spent the Spring.

Edward H. Wales has rented the Reeves cottage, on First Neck Lane. He is expected, with his family, before the Fourth.

Dr. T. Gallard Thomas and family have arrived here for the season. They will occupy the cottage known as "The Dunes."
